Once again Hello my beautiful cadets, welcome back from your winter break. It is a new semester and a new year, but with that that said it is important that you all understand the significance of your grades. You all now have a new start with grades, and Maintain them, don't start slacking. This semester is the fun semester so I suggest you take your grades seriously because if you don't that means you do not get to participate in all the fun events we will be having such as military ball, summer events, & service learning projects. Be prepared for this semester to fly by, do not lose focus! Star testing, CAHSEE testing, & AP testing is right around the corners, so study hard. Lets have a great semester HOOAH!!!!!!

Welcome back to school after your nice long break! This semester will be great, I can already tell with all the things the BLT and CLT have been doing this previous semester. All these major events like Military Ball and the Chain of Command Ceremony are just around the corner, and I'm pretty confident that we will do great. This is the first month of the semester, so pay attention in class, keep those grades up, and don't mess this one up! Have a wonderful month and keep up the good work.
